About this book

This book introduces the participants of the August 2026 intake at AITSPIN, the AIT School of Professional Intelligence at the Asian Institute of Technology.

Each profile carries the participant's name, position, organization and nationality, taken from their own application and reconciled against the AIT student information system. Participants appear by program, in alphabetical order of first name.

The cohort brings together senior executives, engineers, public servants, educators and early-career professionals from ten nationalities. We hope this book helps you find the people you will learn with.
